November 2009

Dear Palmetto Section Members,

It was great to see so many of you join us last month at BMW for pizza and a plant tour. Thank you to Richard Morris, VP of BMW Assembly, for sharing with us about BMW's history in the upstate and where they are headed with their recently expanded facility. A special thanks also goes to Ed Shigley for the work it took to organize and execute this great tour.

On November 10 we will be back at the Holiday Inn for a joint meeting with the Upstate Supply Chain Coalition. This will be the first of two meetings this year where we will meet to network and hear topics that relate to our areas of common interest. Our November speaker will be Lori Braswell who will share with us her insights on "The Resume You Need Now". At 5 pm we will have our first pre-meeting statics seminar of the season led by Shrikant Kulkarni, Six Sigma Specialist with Precision Cast Parts Corporation. Shrikant will be guiding us through "Practical Applications of Area Under the Curve". The seminar will be at the Holiday Inn and is free to both ASQ members and non-members. Those who attend will receive .3 REUs for re-certification.

To help us with planning and cost control, please pre-register ASAP on our web site at www.palmettoasq.org by 5 pm on the Thursday prior to our Tuesday meeting. This will also save you a couple of bucks. I look forward to seeing you at our November meeting.

Regards,
Glenn Hicks, ASQ CQE, SSBB
Chair Palmetto Section
